Dear Ms. Henschel,

I am pleased to thank you once again for your extraordinary investment in our undergraduates through the Radcliffe Club of San Francisco Fund. Your continuing generosity helps us assemble a community of talented, intellectually curious students from all walks of life.

For the 2014–2015 academic year, the Club Scholar was:

Name	Class	Residence	Hometown
Tamilyn Chen	2018	Ivy Yard	Hercules

If you would like to learn more about this scholar, please contact my colleague Meaghan Samere at meaghan\_samere@harvard.edu.

Also for your records please find the FY14 financial summary enclosed. This report reflects the most recent audited financial information, prepared in accordance with the University endowment reporting program guidelines as of June 30, 2014. (Audited FY15 information will be available in the late fall.) You may contact my colleague Christopher Rosol, christopher\_rosol@harvard.edu, with any questions.

Our financial aid program experienced a landmark year in 2014. Last February, a historic gift from Kenneth C. Griffin AB '89 established a challenge fund that will fuel the creation of 600 named scholarships. We celebrated the 10th anniversary of the groundbreaking Harvard Financial Aid Initiative, which now annually provides our students with more than $175 million in need-based aid. Equality of opportunity remains a central priority of The Harvard Campaign for Arts and Sciences, through which alumni, parents, and friends have reaffirmed our commitment to geographic and socioeconomic diversity.

The impact of financial aid is both far-reaching and immediate; from their earliest moments at the College, our undergraduates are pioneering advances in every discipline from music to regenerative biology, while transforming the world in which they live. Thank you for your support, and for continuing to make inspiring experiences possible for our remarkable undergraduates.

Best regards,

Sarah Clark Donahue
Griffin Director of Financial Aid
